MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

The Market Quiet but Strong, with Advanced Prices All Along the List. NEW YORK, Dec. 19.-Money on call wa

easy at 203 per cent., the last loan bein made at 3, closing offered at 3. Prime mercantile paper, 5@6 per cent. Sterling exchange dull but steady at $4.84 for sixty-day bills and $4.882 for demand. The total sales of stocks to-day were 202, 227 shares, including the following: Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 23,300; Delaware & Hudson, 3,300; Lake Shore, 11,109; Northwestern, 12,065; Reading, 51,020; Richmond

& West Point, 13,950; St. Paul, 22,870; Union Paeific, 7,060; Western Union, 4,067. The stock market was quiet, but after a temporary set-back in the early moring it was strong for the entire day, and everything is higher. There was a general "bearish" feeling among the traders this morning, and the London prices coming lower gave them encouragement to put out further lines of "short" stocks, and the failure of the railroad managers at Chicago to advance rates yesterday, and the expectation of reductions in rates of dividend on the Rock Island and Omaha preferred were used with some effect against the market. The Vermont Central made an announcement that it would adopt the rates established by the trunk lines, which rallied the courage of the "bulls," and the traders finding that, although there vere only limited purchases, there were no stocks coming out, changed front became buyers of the stocks the early morning. The market continued narrow, however, until toward the close, when the strength became more pronounced, and marked gains were made in several stocks. Lake Shore was one of the first to feel the impetus of the new buying, and it crossed par once more. The coal stocks were the chief features of the rise, however, and they all displayed marked strength, while Delaware and Hudson once more reached 130. Richmond & West Point, after a sharp decline in the preferred stock in the morning, became very strong on the purchases by brokers generally identified with the insiders, and the rumors that pegotiations with the Norfolk & Western had been suspended for the present was made the special object of the first attack, it recovered with the remainder of the list, and shows a material gain as the result of the day's trading. The declines at the opening extended to } per cent., and this loss was supplemented by further losses of small fractions in the early trading. The downward movement was of shortduration, however, and while the market became extremely dull, there was a reaction, which carried the list quickly above the opening figures. The trading was confined to a very few stocks, but the advance was made by steady, though slow, progress, and even Rock Island, Omaha preferred and Richmond & West Point preferred, which had been materially depressed by the raid, recovered handsomely. The coal stocks came to the front later, and in the last hour Delaware & Hudson made another spurt, while the rest of the list sympathized closely, and the market closed with a moderate degree of anima-

seemed to have no effect, especially as General Manager Thomas was talking bullish. The grangers were active, and although Rock Island

day. The principal advances were Delaware & Hudson, 23c; Richmond & West Point preferred. 14c, and Lackawanna and Louisville & Nashville, each lie.
Railroad bonds were dull, the sales of all issues reaching only $912,000, and while there was some weakness displayed in the forenoon, the list afterward shared in the improvement in shares, and prices moved up, leaving the majority of the bonds traded in fractionally higher than last previous sales. There were but few marked movements, but the declines in South Carolina seconds and Ohio, Indiana & Western tion, and was strong at the best prices of the seconds attracted attention. Government bonds were dull but firm

State bonds were dul	ere dull but firm.

TRADING AT CHICAGO. The Ups and Downs of the Market, with the Range in Prices of Leading Articles. CHICAGO, Dec. 19 .- A feature of to-day's wheat market was the trading in the new crop future. There was more done for July delivery, and operators, especially some of the commission houses, are endeavoring to encourage trading in this future, which they think is less liable to manipulation. The result of to-day's trading caused a decline of 2% from the opening prices. and ruled from 9 @ 10c under the price ruling for May futures. The market, generally speaking. again ruled very dull, and most of the trading was local. The opening was je lower and weak, and prices quickly declined to more, then, with some slight fluctuations, advanced to, but again became weak, and this time speculative offerings were quite large, some "long" wheat coming on the market, and prices declined fe, or to inside figures, ruling firmer and closing about te lower than yesterday. Corn ruled quiet and easier. Trading was only moderate and chiefly local. Opening sales were at yesterday's closing after which the market ruled steady for a time, then became easy. declining ic, remained inactive and steady, closing tole lower than yesterday. There were no features to the market. The market for oats was quiet and easier. Holders showed a fair disposition to sell, and "shorts," who covered freely yesterday, were not inclined to buy. A little more life was manifested in mess pork, but the feeling was somewhat un-mess pork. but the feeling was somewhat unsettled, and prices fluctuated considerably. Offerings were moderate early, and prices ruled 527 ic higher. Later the market weakened, with rather free offerings, and prices gradually receded 20 25c. A slight rally of 7 210c occurred, and the market closed quiet at medium figures. There was rather more doing in lard, and the feeling was steadier. Offerings were fair and the demand showed some improvement, especially for the near deliveries. Prices ruled 05 0.07 to higher early in the day, but settled back again later and the market closed steady at inside figures. Only a fair trade was reported in short-rib-sides, and the changes were slight. Opening sales were made at .024 2.050 advance, but a weaker feeling prevailed later and the advance was lost. How Wheat Was Manipulated. CHICAGO, Dec. 19 .- On the Board of Trade to-day, the moral effect of the millers' convention in Milwaukee was bearish. It generated and promoted a feeling in favor of lower prices, and, with the speculative element, to feel is to act. Many little things are springing up to favor the "bears." For instance, the late futures have been gradually crawling to a round premium everywhere, in the Northwest as well as the East, and thrifty and forehanded millers and others who accumulated wheat when it was cheap, are taking out insurance by selling in the best market against their own holdings. If they need the wheat to grind they can buy in their options, and if they do not need it to grind they can forward it. The forehanded holder, who takes out an insurance of this kind, seems to have as nearly a sure thing as mortals are often able to secure. The local market ruled weak and lower. It opened to off, and hardly got its head above water all day. May opened at $1.101, sold off to $1.09%, up to $1.10%; back to $1.09%, up to $1.091, down again to $1.091, up to $1.10, and back to $1.092, where it closed. There was considerable activity in June and July, more, perbaps, than on any previous day. July sold fully lie lower than yesterday, getting down close $1. December opened at $1.041, ranged $1.04 @ 1.03, and closed at the bottom. January opened at $1.05, ranged $1.05} @ 1.041, and closed at $1.041.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 19 .- The receipts for the day were only 148 cars, and the display on the sample tables was unusually light. There was enough, how-ever, for the wants of all traders, and the buying all through the session was of the dullest kind, and at the close a good deal was carried away unsold. The return of some of the millers from Milwankee did not help the wheat market much, and the steadily declining markets at other points had a bad effect on milling wheat here. Shipments were 88 cars for the day. Some No. 1 hard sold early at $1.20, but the same grade was offered at that later with original way-bill, but could not be sold. INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Trade Brisk-Collections Very Satisfactory-Roasted Coffees on the Decline.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 19. Dry goods men report their trade the best at any time in the present year. A large number of buyers are in daily, and mail orders are large. One of the leading merchants says that December will be their best month in the year if the present volume of business continues the remainder of the month. Prices rule firm, and collections are said to be the largest in any Decomber in many years. Grocers report trade slowing up, but the year will be a prosperous one with them unless they have made more bad debts than they anticipate. Roasted grades of coffees are off half a cent. The flour market continues to move along in an unsettled manner, but after the holidays better things are looked for. In the produce markets business improves as the holidays come on. Apples and other fruits are selling more freely. and prices are stiffening. Potatoes are selling rather slow at unchanged prices. Cranberries seem to be a drug on the market. Poultry for the time being is firm at quotations, but lower prices are indicated next week. Shipments East in the early part of the week were large, and now the home demand will be so. Eggs continue to come in quite freely, and prices rule weak. Choice butter is in brisk demand, with moderate receipts. Oranges are in better demand and firm at the advance on Tuesday. The provision market is very quiet, there being but little demand for hog products of any descripsell now. After the coming in of the new year an improvement is looked for.

There was a fair attendance on 'Change to day, and the bidding was quite spirited on corn, oats and bran, while but little interest was shown in wheat Arrivals of corn are more liberal, while receipts of wheat and oats are light. Below is shown the range of prices on the several cereals as they appear from the bidding on 'Change.

Bedding for Stock.

Not many Western farmers think it necessary to provide a supply of bedding for the stables during the winter, yet it would pay well to do so, at least for all the animals that are kept in stalls or close quarters. No stock, unless it be sheep, will choose a hard place on which to lie down unless it be to avoid a wet place. He who makes the places in which the stock are confined most nearly suit their liking, will get the best results out of them in the way of gain in flesh, wool, yield of milk, capacity of work, or whatever the animals are kept for. It will pay, therefore, to provide bedding so as to make animals comfortable and contented. It will pay so as to keep them clean. This is generally recognized, so far as the horses are concerned, but in this case it is more for looks than anything else. But how is it with milch cows, which should be kept clean that they may be healthy and that the milk can be kept free from filth. It will pay to bed stock well so as to save all of the liquid manure and to increase the supply of fertilizer. One of the best materials for this purpose is forest leaves, when they can be got handily. A day spent in the woods raking up leaves will be a picnic for the boys and girls, and if not far away would provide enough to last a good part of the winter. Leaves are rish in elements of plant food, all of which is so much added to the supply of fertilizer, none of which has come from the farm.

To get large strawberries next spring cover the plants now with fine horse manure. Early in the spring rake it off the plants and chop it into the soil between the rows. Strawberries delight in moisture, but the rows should be drained where the water accumulates and remains during the winter on any part of the bed.

When Boby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
